Democratic Prospects Brighten

Now that the lines are forming in fairly concrete fashion and alignments are being made rapidly for the two Democratic candidates for Governor, it is refreshing to observe that some party leaders have quit talking about bringing out more aspirants; "men of greater stature", they say . . . while meaning, actually, men who might suit them better than those actively campaigning already.

Some of the party's elder members, who have played the game of politics in Kentucky for a good many years, have done the cause of the Democrats no good by talking, to any persons who would listen, on the theme "these are both good fellows, but neither can win in November".

As we have said in these columns before: Any good Democrat can win this year . . . provided only there be a substantial measure of party unity.

We see signs this unity may be had in fuller measure than in a number of years; and are happy to observe some of the very same fellows who a little while back were wringing their hands because, they said, a primary would ruin chances for victory this year, now seeing the light brighten for party harmony, if only the primary can be run off "on a high plane".

The gentlemen now running, Speaker Harry Lee Waterfield and Congressman Earle C. Clements, have been in public life a good many years, tho both are, comparatively speaking, young men. They have made their records, for and against, certain issues very much in the public eye today. It should not be difficult for Democratic voters to choose between them; or to back either as the nominee in November.

It seems to us, as the chips go down, the Republicans may have more trouble uniting upon a candidate this year than the Democrats; for the woods and the newspapers seem full of potential GOP candidates.

Yes, the signs look better for Democratic success this year in old Kentucky; and we agree, as we have all along, with the opinion expressed by the Clements campaign boss last week . . . that it is likely a primary will prove beneficial to the Democratic cause, in that it "may awaken party interest, help bring out a better registration and vote" and, as we remarked here recently, help break down the lethargy which has held so many Democrats in thrall the last several years.

Post Needs Geography Lessons

(By Jess G. Anderson)

My favorite magazine for, lo, these many years, the Saturday Evening Post, comes along in their issue of February 15 with a very enlightening geography lesson for its millions of readers.

Kentuckians generally are grateful to the Post for the praise heaped on its top-most basketball tutor and his array of talent but they are not grateful, particularly those residents of Sharpe, for the tone of the story which can't get away from the eastern pattern of writing which always depicts Kentuckians as backwoods and mountainy, even in dealing with its basketball teams.

The story in last week's issue of the Post, written by Collie Small, is titled: "The Crafty Wizard of Lexington" and deals with Adolph Rupp and the University of Kentucky basketball team. It is a most interesting story to those who do not know all the facts, but to Kentuckians who know their geography and the easterner's complete lack of knowledge of mountaineers, it is none too complimentary.

The article states: "Many of Rupp's players actually are mountain boys." It lists a starting five of Jack Tingle, Bedford, Ky., Joe Holland, Benton, Ralph Beard, Lewisport, Kenneth Rollins, Barlow, and Wah-Wah Jones, Harlan.

Actually of this quintet, only Jones comes from the mountains, and he comes from one of the most progressive little towns in the state, Harlan, with a population of about 8,000 people. Ralph Beard is a native of Hardinsburg, Ky., in Breckenridge, Ky. That is near Owensboro and about as far from the mountains as one could get in the state. Bedford, Ky., Jack Tingle's home town is in Trimble county, about halfway between Louisville and Carrollton, far away from the mountains; Joe Holland is from Benton, in deep western Kentucky and far away from the mountains, and Ken Rollins is from Wickliffe, down on the Mississippi River and also far, far away from the mountains.

Taking another poke at Kentucky backwardness, the writer goes on to state that when Sharpe won the state tournament several years ago someone had to telephone somewhere, a man on horseback picked up the news, rode to a river, shouted the news across the river and a man in a boat relayed the news to another horseman who rode into Sharpe. This Paul Revere stunt sounds very pretty and looked plenty good to the easterners. They got many a laugh out of our primitive news-spreading methods. But what happened was that most of the townspeople at Sharpe heard the news by radio in a play-by-play account, and the facts are that there was a telephone switchboard in Sharpe for many years before Sharpe ever won any basketball tournament.

Another "mountain town" listed in the story was Lawrenceburg, Ky., in Anderson county. Lawrenceburg, home of Kavanaugh High School, is only a few miles south of Frankfort and about as near the mountains as Frankfort. But putting Lawrenceburg in the mountains helps color the story.

Mr. Small should visit the mountains of Kentucky. He should find out it is no disgrace to be from the mountains. He should be apprised of the fact that more residents of the mountain sections of Kentucky read the Post than do people on Front Street in Philadelphia, and he should know the feelings of the people of those mountains and of Sharpe that he has so offended with his garbled facts and fancies.

And the Post editors who went into such a lengthy huddle before they published Edgar Snow's article on Russia, should spare one editor to check up on geography before they release such stories as Mr. Small's sequel to Amy Porter's article in Colliers which created such a sensation and gave Kentucky such a black eye. ## Constitutions Ought To Be Revised Frequently

A Guest Editorial By Thomas Jefferson

I am certainly not an advocate for frequent and untried changes in laws and constitutions. I think moderate imperfections had better be borne with, because, when once known, we accommodate ourselves to them, and find practical means of correcting their ill effects. But I know also that laws and institutions must go hand in hand with the progress of the human mind. As that becomes more developed, more enlightened, and manners and opinions change with the change of circumstances, institutions must advance also, and keep pace with the times. We might as well require a man to wear still the coat that fitted him when a boy, as civilized society to remain ever under the regime of their barbarous ancestors . . . Let us provide in our constitution for its revision at stated periods. What these periods should be, nature herself indicates. By the European tables of mortality, of the adults living at any one moment of time, a majority will be dead in about nineteen years. At the end of that period, then, a new majority has come into place; or, in other words, a new generation.

Each generation is as independent of the one preceding it as that was of all which had gone before. It has, then, like them, a right to choose for itself the form of government it believes most promotive of its own happiness; consequently, to accommodate to the circumstances in which it finds itself, that received from its predecessors; and it is for the peace and good of mankind that a solemn opportunity of doing this every nineteen or twenty years should be provided by the constitution, so that it may be handed on, with periodic repairs, from generation to generation, to the end of time, if anything human can so long endure. (From a letter to a friend in 1816)

A new spray that delays the falling of apples from trees from 10 days to three weeks is on the market.

There are approximately 1,500 railway tunnels in the United States with an aggregate length of about 320 miles.

Pennyrile Postscripts By G. M. P.

"There is entirely too much back-slapping in our town", a leading businessman told me Monday morning. He meant we brag on those among us who are assigned leadership tasks . . . whether they do them well or only so-so. I will admit I like to put nice things about people in The Leader far better than the other kind of news . . . but, as the aforesaid gentleman said: Sometimes a set of spurs will accomplish more than kind words toward speeding the nag.

Kelsey Cummins is being congratulated upon the best public address he ever made by fellow members of the Methodist Church. On the program to pronounce the benediction at a recent lay service, Kelsey noticed time had run out . . . and made his effort the shortest possible. He said he spoke his piece in 4 seconds; and one man told him it was "perfect".

Last Friday was the first anniversary of the chartering of Princeton's Junior Chamber of Commerce. Hearty good wishes to the sturdy infant. May this second year be as productive in the community's best interests as was the first. And many more happy birthdays to you, Jaycees!

For those who can remember the custom of the day, the following is republished here, from the Banner of 1884:

Dancing is all the go in this community. The other night, at a dance over the way, there was a game of snap gotten up among those who did not dance. A young lady snapped a young man who had never seen the game played. He didn't know what it meant. The young lady returned and snapped at him again. He thought she was making sport of him, and left the room in haste. He will live and learn.

Exhausted Rooster is the title conferred by the Jaycees upon J. Lester McGee . . . who attained the age of retirement from active membership in the Junior Chamber of Commerce recently. The local chapter gained the second such title this week, when B. M. Taylor hit 36.

Reason for delaying the Hopkins county part of the Princeton-Providence road letting, latest advice from the State Highway Department says, is status of the bridge industry. A similar bridge in Pendleton county has been advertised four times and still no acceptable bids.

Ernest Hill, who lives over in Crittenden county, was in town last week with a huge horn, with brass mouthpiece and trimming on its big end. He said his little grandson, who lives at Flatrock, asked him what this thing was and when told it was a foxhorn, replied "You can't fool me that way, foxes don't have horns".

Located 350 miles farther south than Cairo, Egypt . . . at Key West, Florida, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wood have found the place they like best in that usually balmy winter haven. Florida had no repeat when the current cold wave struck many other sections of the U.S.

It seems evident delay in starting a financial campaign here for donations to the new hospital fund . . . has not been all lost motion; for, while it may be harder to get big gifts this Spring than it would have been last summer or fall . . . more persons know of their own experience how much more expensive, less convenient all around, it is to have to go to a hospital in another city, for an operation or treatment . . . and so, want a modern hospital here.

We had hoped by this time to have a picture and then a cut of the Jaycees Big Check, three-by-eight feet, a replica of the one drawn by Joe Wilcox in favor of the Caldwell Memorial Hospital, the latter representing the Jaycees' net profit from its football promotion last autumn. But the picture still is missing.

Irvin S. Cobb once told of a nice old lady, enjoying her first ride in a taxicab. Going through heavy traffic, the lady grew more nervous as the driver kept removing his hand from the steering wheel, putting it outside the car. Finally, the lady could stand it no longer.

Leaning far forward she tapped the driver on the shoulder. "Young man," she said sternly, "you just tend to your driving. I'll tell you when it starts to rain."—Christian Observer.

AN ESSAY ON MORALS, by FRANK WYLLIE (Rinehart: $3.50); THE THIRD WAY, by Stuart Cloete (Houghton Mifflin: $4); THE RECOVERY OF MORALS, by Henry C. Link (Dutton: $3.00).

There's something rotten in Denmark, these three writers agree, but they differ more or less on the situs of the rot and the nature of the operation required to eliminate it.

Wyllie would do away with the church, "no special church but all churches," he exclaims. Cloete finds "the fact of God" of supreme importance. Link, whose views are by far the most conventional, is all for the Ten Commandments, but devotes most of his time to urging moderation; half a loaf, or cake, is better than none.

"You, good reader, are a beast, and so am I, and we are nothing else," declares Wyllie, whose book is specifically his interpretation and development of Jung's theories. Our psychological aches and pains result from institutional restraints on natural instincts, such as sex. More than the others, Wyllie once in a while rises to eloquence, although he can fumble a lot in translating academic-groove ideas into Main-Street language.

Cloete admits the beast in us, but where Wyllie would pat it on the back, he hops it on the head. His "third way" eschews Socialism, Fascism and Communism, and may be called "Socio-Demo-

DISASTER will strike this year!

...BUT THE RED CROSS WILL BE THERE!

In 65 years, the American Red Cross has relieved over 4,000 disasters of all kinds. Last year, alone, it assisted more than 136,000 people battered by catastrophe.

This year, the suffering and misery will again be great when new calamities strike down additional thousands. But come what may, you can depend on this:

As always, the Red Cross will be there to reduce the toll . . . ease the pain . . . soften the suffering.

Emergency aid for the injured . . . food and shelter for the homeless . . . help in restoring homes according to need. These services—and many more—the Red Cross will provide to all needy sufferers regardless of creed or race, young or old.

This vital work requires money—lots of it. Your support is urgently needed. So please give—and give generously—to your Red Cross chapter. There is no worthier cause!

The nation faces an acute milk bottle shortage!

In other cities people are being denied milk solely because there are no bottles to put it in.

Bottle manufacturers say that no relief is in sight.

You can help assure a continued full supply of milk for your family by washing and returning your empty milk bottles promptly . . . either to your grocer or to your milkman.

During the past few months thousands of empty bottles have not been returned . . . So please make a careful search and put these stray bottles back to work.

The deposit your grocer requires on milk bottles does not cover their cost; its only purpose is to insure their prompt return.

Your help NOW will assure your home a continued full supply of milk. Remember . . . The milk is yours, the bottle is ours; please return the bottle!

Hopkinsville Host S. E. Tourney; Wildcats Favored

Kentucky's Wildcats, the current one basketball team, will be heading for the 14th consecutive South-conference championship week as they journey here for the annual tournament on Thursday, Feb. 28. The tournament will run day after day until the finals are Saturday.

The Wildcats are a pre-tourney favorite to cop the honor and, should they have lost this season the Rupp still tops in the nation's conference. For the tournament Sunday and the first start Thursday afternoon will be six sessions and a night Thursday and Friday morning session Saturday which two teams will win the finals that night. Kentucky team has won the 14 tournaments and also copped the 1935 ship by virtue of an all conference season, no tournament that year's national championship placed four men in Conference first team on the second.

What Coach Rupp calls the best team, the Wildcats, is expected to breeze through the conference tournament and continue their record breaking season at one of the national contests. Invitations are almost certain from both the N. C. A. A. and the Metropolitan Invitational tournaments, but Coach Rupp has not indicated which he will elect to play in. The Cats won the Invitational last year and would be a strong favorite to repeat if they decide to play in that tournament.

Kruger Park, a wild game preserve in Africa, is larger than New Jersey.

The best suggestion I have ever run across for organizing and running community councils or committees are gleaned from Kenneth S. Beam's, "A Guide to Community Coordination." Mr. Beam is executive secretary to Coordination Councils, Inc., with headquarters in Los Angeles. Here goes:—

"Start with a small group, then increase by inviting representatives from other organizations in the community, until all are represented."

Sell the idea to three people who will devote their time and efforts, and the job is done."

"Get young people on the committees."

"Secure the broad, inclusive participation of all interests and agencies."

"Secure an active and discriminating chairman."

"Study the community, find actual needs; then select one need and meet it."

"Start work immediately on one problem, however small, which can show tangible results."

"Begin with a small group attacking a definite project, one that can be completed in a reasonable time, so that interest can be maintained."

"Expand as resources and understanding permit."

"The chairman should not be known as an extremist in any field, political, religious or professional. He should be one who does not try to capitalize on his organization contacts for personal gain."

"Never allow politics to enter."

"Be cautious lest you have publicity seekers."

The importance of good leadership is emphasized by Ordway Tead in his "The Art of Leadership."

"The opportunity to lead fairly shouts aloud for its chance in every organization and institution which brings the citizens of a democratic community together. For in every area of action people are seeking to fulfill themselves. They want deeply to rise above a normal or legal equality to an assertion of their own intrinsic superiorities of capacity and achievement. But to do this, they must be led. They have to be brought into effective group relationships which are certainly not spontaneous, but the creation of those in the vanguard."

Since I am letting distinguished writers do this week's column, I'll conclude with this fine quotation on leadership from a great American poet, James Russell Lowell:

"I honor a man who is willing to sink Half his present repute for the freedom to think. And, when he has thought, be his cause strong or weak, Will risk 't'other half for the freedom to speak."

Nat'l 4-H Club Week March 1-9

National 4-H Club Week, March 1-9, finds Kentucky with a goal of 85,000 club members this year, it is announced at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Last year's enrollment in the 120 counties totaled 71,892 boys and girls.

In a letter to 4-H club members, President Truman said, in part:

"We are proud of your 4-H clubs which are spread across our great nation. They constitute an outstanding body of youth aiming to attain worth-while goals in life . . . Four-H clubs have been an outstanding influence in developing the cultural, social and recreational, as well as the practical aspects of modern rural life. As a character-building influence they are unsurpassed."

"We take satisfaction also in the fact that 4-H clubs are based on each club doing a useful piece of work on the farm or in the home or community, under skilled guidance, and doing it in the best way known to research and practice; that 4-H clubs are democratically organized and conducted, with programs based on individual and community needs; and that as members of these clubs, you are concerned with work important to the home and the farm as well as those activities that make for sturdy citizenship."

The President said 4-H clubs were to be congratulated especially on their 1947 theme, "Working Together for a Better Home and World Community."

'Baby Sitter' Chairman Solves Club Problem

Marblehead, Mass. (AP) — A Massachusetts north shore women's organization has a new officer—"baby sitter" chairman.

The junior aid group elected Mrs. John F. Dexter of Marblehead to the office.

Her duty is to provide a baby sitter for each member mother assigned to sell advertising and tickets, or otherwise take part in the annual spring show.

Fire When Ready

Rockford, Ill. — (AP) Here's a blaze which could have been reported, quite properly, in the society columns. The ladies were preparing a dinner at the Mission Covenant church. An overheated oven prompted them to turn in an alarm. Two trucks responded swiftly. The firemen fixed the stove, sat down and ate man-size slices of cake.

Hunt Tells How To Make Plant Beds

Provide 35 to 75 feet of bed 12 feet wide for each acre of Burley tobacco and at least 20 feet of bed 12 feet wide for each acre of Dark tobacco, states Russell Hunt, of the UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics in a leaflet dealing with tobacco plant-bed management. Other suggestions:

Select fertile, well-drained land for bed, preferably with a slight southern or eastern slope, free from shade, especially in the forenoon. This helps prevent blue mold. Using a new site each year also helps prevent disease.

Before steaming or burning prepare seed bed well, so only light stirring will be needed before sowing. Deep stirring may bring weeds.

Fertilize a steamed bed with complete fertilizer at the rate of 40 pounds for each 100 feet of bed 12 feet wide and rake in lightly. A low-potash fertilizer such as 4-12-0 is preferable for a heavily burned bed.

Sow two to three level teaspoons of cleaned and tested seed to 100 feet of bed. To distribute seed evenly, mix it with screened wood ashes, fine sand or commercial fertilizer. Going over bed several times, sowing part of the seed each time, assures even distribution.

Box the bed tight, using one-by-six-inch boards. Use a good grade of tobacco cotton. Draw it over the top of the boxing boards and fasten to the sides of the boards. This will keep out flea beetles and cutworms, and the tobacco cotton will last longer.

Service Wife Strong For The American Way

Metropolis, Ill. — (AP) — When Mrs. John Harrington of Metropolis sailed recently to join her husband, a chief warrant officer, in Germany, she almost had her "home" in tow.

She drove a new automobile to her port of embarkation and also ordered to be shipped with her a new electric refrigerator, a new electric washer, bed and living room suites and other furniture and rugs.

Schoolboy Is Slow To Learn Honesty

Britton, Okla. — (AP) — An Oklahoma's conscience almost outlasted the memory of man. The unidentified man mailed $3 to the school board to pay for a lamp and water bucket he said he took from "the Old Pot school" 40 years ago. The board finally found some old-timers who recalled that name was once used for Britton's Lone Star schoolhouse.

Sniping Pays Off On Possum Hunt

Anderson, S. C. — (AP) — The traditional hazing operation of conducting a greenhorn on a snipe hunt, leaving him holding an empty bag out in the middle of nowhere on a dark, cold night, paid off for Mrs. Emerson Bussey.

Recalling the snipe hunting technique of her high school days, Mrs. Bussey snatched a snack from the trunk of her automobile and quick-wittedly bagged an opossum whose presence on the highway forced her to stop her car.

Mrs. A. F. Elrod, with her, got out and "surrounded the 'possum," Mrs. Bussey related, "and he walked right into the bag."

THE "Main Line" Earns a Dollar

76% comes from handling freight. Last year the Illinois Central carried some 70 million tons an average distance of 263 miles. Which is the same as hauling a train carrying 736 tons of freight a thousand times around the earth. This was done at a cost to users averaging less than a penny a ton a mile.

More than one-third of the Illinois Central's total freight tonnage was coal, the fuel that keeps so many of this nation's citizens warm and powers the production of most of their wealth.

Manufactures and miscellaneous freight made up another 25 per cent; agriculture, animals and animal products 16 per cent, and forest products 11 per cent.

Freight such as this is the lifeblood of business, industry and home life in America. Our first obligation is to keep it moving.

At The Churches

FIRST CHRISTIAN

Tom W. Collins, pastor.

Disciple churches throughout the nation observed a "Week of Compassion," February 16-23, during which special offerings were received for relief and reconstruction in Europe and Asia. The national goal of $400,000 was surpassed last year and national leaders are confident the same will be true this year. The offering received to date at First Christian is nearing the $300 mark. Additional gifts may be made Sunday.

This Lord's Day opens a new month for church activity. Mild weather is likely to prevail permitting further increase in attendance. Members of the Christian Education Committee are continuing their work on the problem of classroom space.

We were happy to welcome Mrs. Sidney Ledford into the fellowship of the church Sunday.

K. U. ANNOUNCES HUGE 10-YEAR BUILDING PROGRAM

Shown here are K. U. Vice President Washington Reed, President R. M. Watt, and E. W. Brown, vice-president and chief engineer, looking at a generator room drawing for the new Green River steam electric plant. Nine and a quarter million of the $47,800,000 construction program will go into the new Muhlenburg county plant.

With all building steel in place, smokestacks started, and the installation of boilers and coal burners, construction of Kentucky Utilities Company's new $6,500,000 steam generating plant near Tyrone in Woodford county is well past the half-way mark.

According to E. W. Brown, Kentucky Utilities Company Vice President, the first of the four planned 25,000-kilowatt generators is expected to go into operation by July 1, and contracts for the second have already been let. When the second generator goes into operation in 1948, the plant will generate more than three times the maximum present requirements of Lexington.

The two units will use more than 150,000 tons of coal a year, equivalent to 30,000 man-days of work for Kentucky coal miners, Brown said. A permanent staff of 45 will man the plant.

The Tyrone plant is part of K. U.'s five year, multi-million dollar expansion program, Brown said, and typifies the Company's belief in the agricultural and industrial future of Kentucky.

Retirement Fund Soldier's Security

One of the biggest benefits a soldier gets is the retirement fund credit which piles up to his account—every hour, every day, every month he's in the Army.

That retirement fund credit is easy to overlook. The soldier sees that cash money he's paid each month. He does not need to be told he's getting free clothes, free food, free housing, free medical and dental care—year in and year out. He eats the food, wears the clothes, he gets the best attention from both doctor and dentist.

But that retirement fund is another matter. It doesn't put on much of a show now. It grows steadily, without fuss. How fast does it grow? Well, a master sergeant retiring after 30 years gets $185.53 a month the rest of his life. That amounts to $44,551.20 in 20 years, or $2,227.56 every year. It's more than enough to grow old on comfortably. A civilian would have to pay about $100 a month for 30 years to assure himself of that retirement income.

County AAA News

ACP Has Begun, Says County Chairman

The 1947 Agricultural Conservation Program for Kentucky began January 1, and will end December 31. Farmers wishing to participate in it are asked to sign a farm plan in the AAA office on or before June 1, showing their intentions for 1947.

Although it is now doubtful if phosphate will be available for AAA use through the AAA office for Spring, the committee will begin taking orders February 27, or farmers who cannot locate phosphate materials commercially and who wish to sign for phosphate.

The 1947 Agricultural Conservation Program for Kentucky is planned to help farmers in carrying out enough practices which will rebuild and conserve the State's most valuable resource—its native soil.

The program offers assistance to each farmer in the county to restore fertility of his soil, through the use of conservation practices such as (1) application of lime, fertilizers and other materials; (2) planting of cover crops; (3) harvesting of certain legumes and grass seeds; (4) pasture improvement; (5) erosion control and water conservation; (6) forestry and (7) harvesting of certain seeds.

The allowance of each farm in the State will be established on the basis of 60 cents times the acreage of cropland in the farm plus 35 cents times the acreage of fenced, noncrop, open pasture land on the farm in excess of one-half of the acreage of cropland.

The extent of approved practices carried out on the farm in excess of the farm allowance will be paid at the approved rate on a pro-rata basis to the extent of the unobligated portion of the funds allocated to the State.

The work of helping farmers fill out their 1947 farm plans will be under supervision of Mrs. Lillian Pruett, secretary and clerk of the local AAA. Mr. Oldham says he regrets it will be impossible for the community committee to visit every farm in the county this Spring and discuss his plan with each farmer, but every possible assistance will be given in the office.

Farmers are urged to fill out their plans early and to make every effort to locate their phosphate needs locally. Lime is now available and orders will be accepted as needed by farmers.

Premeasurement Of 1947 Tobacco Acreages

In view of high-rate of penalty and loan eligibility provisions, 1947 acreage of tobacco may, at the expense of the farmer, be staked off in the field and measured by a person approved by the County AAA Committee, said W. P. Oldham, chairman of the AAA. Farmers wishing this service will apply to the AAA office.

The acreage staked off in the field will be verified next summer but will be accepted as correct if no error has been made and it is found that the crop has been planted within the lines staked out and that the stakes have not been changed.

1947 Tobacco Allotments

Approval of the 1947 tobacco allotments for Caldwell county will soon be mailed to farmers, according to Mrs. Lillian Pruett, secretary of the Caldwell County AAA, as listing sheets are expected to be received from the State AAA Committee in a few days. Notices cannot be mailed farmers until this approval is received, said Mrs. Pruett.

Corn Derby Men Make Acre Gain

Sixty-five farmers averaging 85 bushels an acre in the Kentucky corn derby produced corn worth $47.50 more an acre than did 44 non-derby farmers averaging 47 bushels to the acre in the same south-central counties, according to a survey made by Dr. John H. Bondurant, UK Experiment Station economist. He assumed a price of $1.25 a bushel in arriving at this figure.

Farmers in the contest produced corn at an average cost of 39 cents a bushel, while it cost the other farmers 48 cents not including land rent and cover crop costs. Acre cost for the derby group averaged $33.32, of which $17.02 was for fertilizer and value of manure. For the non-derby group the acre cost was $22.58, of which $5.05 was for fertilizer and manure.

The corn derby farmers produced 5.1 bushels per hour of man labor while the other 44 produced 2.3 bushels an hour of labor. Tractor farms in the corn derby produced 5.8 bushels per hour of man labor while tractor farms in the other group produced 3.3 bushels. Contest farmers using horses or mules produced 3.4 bushels an hour, and the other farmers 1.7 bushels.

Railroads of the United States issue and distribute 80-million timetables annually in normal times. During the war years, the number was much higher.

Health - Hospital Agency Created To Aid Kentucky

Governor Acts To Help State Obtain Federal Funds If Appropriation Made

(By Associated Press)
Frankfort — Governor Simeon D. D. Blackerby has created an agency to help the state health and hospital services and to co-operate with the U. S. Public Health Service in carrying out a proposed federal hospital-building program in Kentucky.

By executive order, the Governor created a Division of Health, Hospital, and the Related Services in the Kentucky Department of Health. His order said a new unit will study and carry out its field, map a program for co-operation with the U. S. Public Health Service and submit a report to the 1948 General Assembly.

The order said the division will appoint, with the Governor's consent, an advisory council representative of the medical profession, hospital, hospital administrators, and users of hospital services.

P. E. Blackerby, State health commissioner, said in Louisville he would consult with Governor Willis in a few days appointment of the council. He said it likely would have ten or nine members. Dr. Blackerby added the council would have a director and employees to carry out its work.

Dr. Blackerby explained purpose of the new agency is to co-operate with the U. S. Public Health Service in carrying out provisions of Federal Public Health Act of 1946.

Under this law, he said, provides for federal aid to assist States and local communities to establish and build hospitals according to U. S. Public Health Service standards in making surveys to determine which rural areas need hospital services. The hospitals would be established on the basis of great need.

Dr. Blackerby said Congress has authorized the Federal Government to provide grants and loans for hospital construction on basis of one-third of the cost of construction, "to meet demonstrated needs."

If the present Congress implements the authorization acts appropriations," Dr. Blackerby said, "federal aid for the State and local communities for hospital construction will be available."

The Kentucky Poultry Improvement Association says the world's most beautiful hen may live right here in Kentucky. If the owner will enter her in the "Miss Slick Chick of 1947" contest. One purpose of the contest is to promote the consumption of poultry and eggs. Five regional winners will receive trips to a movie premiere and owner of the champion will get $500 in cash. The hen will receive a golden egg and a fur-lined nest.

Persons wishing to enter the contest should send a picture of a member of the family holding a hen, to the "Egg and I National Committee," Poultry and Egg National Board, 308 West Washington Street, Chicago. The contest will close March 10. J. W. Matthews, field manager of the Poultry Improvement Association, Lexington, is Kentucky chairman of the contest.

NOW BETTER NUTRITION FOR YOUR FAMILY FROM OUR HOMOGENIZED VITAMIN D MILK

You know, of course, that MILK is more than a delicious drink; it is the most valuable of all the foods you buy. For growth and maintenance of vigor and vitality your bodies need proteins, food energy, minerals and vitamins—and MILK provides important amounts of all these essential food factors, except for one . . . REGULAR MILK CONTAINS LITTLE VITAMIN D.

Our Vitamin D Milk makes up the difference. 400 U.S.P. units of "Vitamin D" are added to our regular whole milk to enable children and adults, alike, to make better use of milk's health-promoting calcium and phosphorus. And it's homogenized, too. This means it's more delicious, creamier tasting, more quickly digested. There's cream, better taste—and Vitamin D—in every drop.

Nutritionists recommend that children drink 3 to 4 glasses, adults 2 or more glasses of Vitamin D Milk each day. So, today, don't give your family this better tasting milk until you see the difference. Phone, write or tell our nearest dealer to learn it right now!

Highway Dept. Has Radio, Teletype

Will Furnish Information On Conditions Of Roads Over State

Frankfort, Feb. 25—Creation of a division of radio communication within the Department of Highways and the installation of a system of teletype were announced today by J. Stephen Watkins, commissioner. The new division will keep constant contact with twelve highway patrol districts and seven highway department districts. Acting director of the new division will be Colonel Hayward Gilliam, director of the Highway patrol.

"Distribution of information relative to snow, ice and flood conditions and the handling of inter-office communications will be facilitated through the use of these two new communications units," Mr. Watkins said. "Much time and a great deal of clerical work will be eliminated in handling immediate contacts with district offices of both the highway department and the highway patrol."

"The division will collect and correlate information concerning road, weather, traffic and other conditions that affect the safety of the highways. Recommendations of several of the sub-committees of the Governor's Highway Safety program have stressed the importance of public information and coordination of public agencies. Quick communication is essential to proper law enforcement. Radio will provide this, and will also afford the department a splendid contact unit for better maintenance operations."

The functions of the radio division will become operative on March 1.

Pennyrile Forest Has Excellent Fire Record

H. B. Newland, state forester, recently reviewed the Kentucky forest fire record for 1946. While the number of fires and acres burned in the State increased over the previous year, the fire record for the 15,000-acre Pennyrile State Forest was excellent. No fires occurred during the six months period from July 1 through December 31.

E. R. Wagoner, supervisor of Pennyrile Forest, says this excellent fire prevention record is due largely to cooperation received from landowners adjoining the State Forest and other citizens of Christian, Caldwell and Hopkins counties.

Tigers To Meet Marion Mar. 6 In District Tourney

Taylor Says Butler Boys "Have Chance" Altho Some Of Players Have Been Ill

Butler High Basketball Tigers defeated the Marion Terrors by a score of 37 to 35 on the Marion floor Tuesday night.

The annual 6th District Basketball Tournament, with teams of high schools in Caldwell, Trigg and Crittenden counties, participating, will be played at Marion March 5, 6, 7 and 8. L. C. Taylor, superintendent of Princeton schools, announced this week.

"Although Butler won the Rotary Invitational event, Marion is considered the favorite to win this tournament but you cannot pick winners on records. "Our chances are good," Mr. Taylor said, "altho some of our boys have been sick."

The cheerleaders will accompany the boys to the tournament, Mr. Taylor said, but the band would not make the trip, since the gym would be too crowded for the public if every high school brought its band.

Trigg County and Fredonia will play the first game, at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night. The second game, which is scheduled for 8:30 o'clock, will feature Francis vs. Shady Grove.

Princeton will play Marion at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night, in the only game to be played the second day.

UK Dean Of Education May Head Teachers Assn.

Dr. William S. Taylor, dean of the University of Kentucky College of Education since 1923, will be a leading candidate for the presidency of the National Educational Association when the organization holds its annual meeting in Cincinnati next July.

Latest support of his candidacy has come from the Northern Kentucky Education Association.

Dean Taylor is the brother of L. C. Taylor, superintendent of Princeton schools.

PTA Celebrates 50th Anniversary

The 50th anniversary of the Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers was observed here Thursday, Feb. 20, at Butler High School.

"The future of our organization," was discussed by Mrs. Charles Curry and the invocation was said by the Rev. David W. Shulherr, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church. Rev. Tom Collins, pastor of the First Christian Church, and Mrs. George Eldred were in charge of special music.

Six past presidents of the local PTA unit were present and each was presented a caranation by Mrs. Don Boltz, president. They were: Mrs. Alvin Lisansky, Mrs. Percy Pruett, Mrs. Henry Severson, Mrs. Paul Cunningham, Mrs. J. D. Alexander and Mrs. C. H. Jaggars.

Refreshments were served to approximately 75 parents and teachers.

1947 Burley Quota Cut 19.6 Percent

Bigger Reductions On Farms Growing Less Than Allotments

(By Associated Press)

Lexington—A general reduction of 19.6 percent in 1947 Burley tobacco acreage allotments of over one acre was announced here Monday by M. D. Royse, State director of the Production and Marketing Administration.

After the secretary of agriculture proclaimed a 1947 Burley quota of 490,000,000 pounds last Oct. 2, the State PMA director informed growers the reduction probably would be between 18 and 20 percent.

No general reduction will be made in allotments of nine-tenths acre or less, Royse said, and allotments of one acre generally will not be reduced below nine-tenths acre.

The only farms on which acreage allotments are to be reduced more than 19.6 percent are a few on which the acreage grown in each of the last 3 years has been less than 75 percent of the farm allotment, Royse pointed out.

County offices will notify each Burley grower in the State within the next few days of the allotment established on his farm, the PMA director said.

Purpose of the reduction of the quota and allotments is to bring production as nearly as possible in line with demand, he said.

Growers voted overwhelmingly last October to retain marketing quotas on the 1947, 1948 and 1949 crops, with 95.6 percent of those voting favoring quotas.

With quotas in effect, any tobacco marketed in excess of the farm quotas is subject to a penalty of 40 percent of the average market price of the preceding crop. The penalty on 1947 excess tobacco will be 40 percent of the 1946 crop average price.

Eldon S. Dummit Out For Governor

Eldon S. Dummit, Lexington attorney and for the last 3 years attorney general of Kentucky, announced that he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

"Following the true American tradition," he stated, "I have decided to place my name before the people of Kentucky as a candidate for governor of this great Commonwealth. The selection of a governor is a matter for all of the people of the state. Their choice will be made in November at the voting places."

General Dummit has numerous friends and admirers here, where he has appeared as guest speaker on several occasions before the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs and at Butler High School.

RETONGA PROVED MERIT TO HIM, SAYS L. & R. MAN

He Was About Ready To Give Up When He Started On Noted Medicine, Declares Mr. Hughes. Tells About His Case

From a well-known railroad man, Mr. G. J. Hughes, 227 10th St., Clarksville, Tenn., for many years with the L. & R., comes a statement that "Retonga is the only really satisfactory medicine I ever used, and I have tried many." Discussing his experience, Mr. Hughes gratefully continued:

"I had such a poor appetite from nervous indigestion that I didn't eat nearly enough, so my weight dropped down and I felt so whipped out that it took about all my will power to stay on my job. I suffered frequently from raging headaches and, although I took strong laxatives continually the toxic poisons in my system seemed to increase and keep on pulling me down. I was almost ready to give up my work, and I had tried so many medicines that my faith and hope were about gone. "Retonga gave me relief from all this distress and made me feel like life is worth living. I now eat heartily. I have regained ten pounds, and constipation and headaches are relieved. I feel better and stronger than in years. I rarely miss a day telling someone about Retonga." Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at Dawson's Drug Store.—Adv. 1tp

4-H Club Workshop Conducted Here

Field agents, from the University of Kentucky, conducted a 4-H workshop in the Kentucky Utilities building February 19.

R. J. Ramsey, Rural Sociologist from the University of Kentucky, said all organizations, schools and parents should be vitally interested in 4-H Club work.

Miss Lyda Sutherland, 4-H field agent, gave a model demonstration on making sections for a drawer.

Misses Dorothy Gentry and Edith Lacy had 4-H leaders and agents to judge canned fruits, vegetables, foods, menus and clothing.

The following counties were represented by 4-H leaders and agents: Christian, Crittenden, Lyon, Muhlenberg, Trigg and Caldwell. Mrs. Guy T. Shoulters, county 4-H leader, Mrs. Floyd Dunbar, Critter Club and Mrs. Jim Neal, Otter Pond were the local leaders who attended this meeting.

Hospital Called For

Kiwanis Invites Rotary And Jaycees To Dedicate And How Modern Hospital Is To Be Obtained For Community

What well may be the most important meeting to be held in the town's modern history is scheduled for Tuesday, March 11, starting at 8 o'clock, when the Club has invited membership of the Club and the Kiwanis of Commerce to a joint dinner.

and decide upon a plan for the new hospital project. At the same time, a vote will be taken on the issue of a bond issue for the purpose of raising money for the construction of the new hospital.

Mr. Simmons said his committee has been working on the project for some time and that they are confident that the plan will be successful.

It is indicated there is a need for a new hospital in the community and that the plan for the new hospital is being discussed.
